

CORPORATE ADVENTURE RETREATS

For information contact us at: info@AbundantRetreats.com

Abundant Living Retreats provides a customized retreat experience in the beauty and splendor of Montana, or a location that suites your organization. After assessing your company's needs, we put together a package that uniquely fits your team or organization.

Abundant Living Retreats provides a forum for individuals to come together as a team through engaging activities and adventures that allow them to learn new skills and tap into their current strengths. Individuals will gain a clearer understanding of themselves and be able to connect with the members of their team in dynamic new ways. If you find that geography is a challenge for your company (i.e. remote employees), and would like to enhance your success by providing experiences that bring people together, Abundant Living can help.

The people in your organization are your most valuable resource. Building high performance teams from talented individuals will give you the competitive edge. Here is what Abundant Living Retreats offers:

- Activities that enable employees to adapt to change
- Becoming a high performance team in the splendor of nature
- Enhancing relationships and optimizing the connection in your group
- Participating in workshops to improve all aspects of personal communication
- Learning the value and skills required to set powerful goals and daily affirmations
- Understanding roles, personalities, and the strengths of your peers
- Improving individual and team performance
- Recognizing and over-coming obstacles to success

With Abundant Living Retreats you can...

- Experience the wonder of nature via hiking, biking, running, practicing yoga, rope courses, journaling, laughing, listening, and most of all learning in a fun way. Enjoy learning by drawing your own picture with the splendor of Glacier National Park, Flat Head Lake, and the Rocky Mountains as your canvas.
- Widen the scope of your vision on a personal and professional level. Find what is so magically similar and so wonderfully different about yourself, as well as your peers.
- Develop a key component to your personal and career success: trust. Trust in yourself, in your common vision, and in your teammates; it will empower your group with a seamless and powerful force into the future.
